THE STORY OF "GRUBSTAKE DAYS" AND IT'S HOME, YUCCA VALLEY

Grubstake Days had its inception in the spring of 1951, at which time the California Mining Council selected Yucca Valley for its annual convention. This three-day event attracted visitors who enjoyed the Western hospitality of the embryo community, and a parade, followed by a gymkhana. laid the foundation for the annual Grubstake Days Celebrations to succeed it.

Each year thereafter, this highly successful event has grown bigger and better until it has rightfully taken its place among the outstanding celebrations in Southern California.

Yucca Valley, not yet in its teens, has displayed a magnetic attraction to people seeking a restful and yet an inspiring place in which to dwell, and now, while only ten years old, it has earned its place in the sun, as the Queen of the Desert.

Situated at the summit of the Morongo Basin at an altitude of 3,333 feet, surrounded by majestic mountains, and dressed in the magnificent flora of Joshua trees, (Yucca brevifolia), her unique beauty is unsurpassed.

Here with ultra violet sunlight 355 days a year, smog and fog free dry air, and cool deep well water, healthful living is at its best.

Yucca Valley has over two thousand permanent residents and more arriving daily. A beautiful modern Elementary School provides education for some 300 students. Churches of many faiths are available. A new commercial airport is well under construction, There is a modern business section, a golf course, and fine desert homes are springing up daily.

This, the sixth annual "Grubstakes Days," promises to be the most outstanding celebration ever held. Please join us on May 26 and 27 and let us prove to you that Yucca Valley is truly a rare gem worth prospecting for, at any time of the year.

East of the San Bernardinos, the High Desert country waits for you. Romance, fortune and health and a generous mixture of soul freedom are all plentiful in this "Land of Little Rain".

Indian pottery and relics can still be unearthed along hill trails and at old camp grounds. Remains of Spanish arrastras and the lure of lost mines becomes hypnotic. Morongo Valley with its hidden lakes and forgotten trails is a place to explore.

Towering snow capped mountain peaks overlook sheltered, warm coves, the Pipes Canyon with its creamy onyx ledges, famed Reche's well, Giant Rock and Surprise Springs. Blacktop highways have made this wonderland easily accessible to the modern motorist who will discover the village of Yucca Valley is the hub in a maze of fast growing communities. "Sta buena", it is good, was the favorite quote of the High Desert's first commercial miner.

Horseback Riding

Horseback riding provides refreshing relaxation on mountain trails, in and around Yucca Valley. Fantastic rock formations abound, only short rides away, and it is possible to ascend to the tall timber line on horseback.

DESERT CHRIST PARK

Nestled on the side of an impressive mountain that rises from the desert floor on the northern border of town, is Desert Christ Park of National Fame.

A few short years ago, it was but a dream of Reverend Eddie Garver, an active local clergyman at that time, known as the Desert Parson, but today it is a reality.

This realization came with the advent of Mr. Antone Martin, sculptor. This intrepid gentleman, for over five years, has devoted his full time to this admirable project, and the blending of his vivid imagination with his wealth of artisan's talent, has made this Park an everlasting memorial to the Saviour.

Dominating the scene, stands a gigantic concrete statue of Christ overlooking His twelve apostles. There is another masterpiece depicting the Sermon on the Mount, and one of the Woman of Samaria at the Well. Mr. Martin is presently engaged in creating the Last Supper in bas-relief, the superstructure of which is 40 feet by 100 feet.

A huge cross behind the statue of of Christ, is lighted nightly as an eternal vigil over the valley.

A wedding chapel, designed and built by Mr. Frank Garske, is as modern as tomorrow, fashioned from native rock, and roofed with translucent plastic, and affords a perfect compliment to the setting. On Sunday afternoons the strains of music from the Hammond organ housed within, drift over the valley and radiates the aura of peace and contentment that prevades the surrounding atmosphere of this beautiful Park.

NEW GOLF COURSE

An eighteen hole golf course is now under construction and will be ready for play by summer of '56. Designed by William Bell and Son, Golf Course Architects of Pasadena and built by J. W. Yale, this course will be one of the most beautiful in Southern California. When completed, this private course, known as the Hi-Desert Golf & Country Club, will boast a tennis court, swimming pool, club house and eighteen holes in most attractive setting imaginable. All grass greens and fairways will be situated around a beautiful lake with trees and shrubs to add to the setting. Since no dew forms in this area (because of our low humidity) one may play at dawn without the discomfort accompanying wet grass. This club will be open the entire year and because of our elevation of 3,333 feet, temperatures are comfortable throughout the summer.

CITIZENS NATIONAL TRUST & SAVINGS BANK OF RIVERSIDE

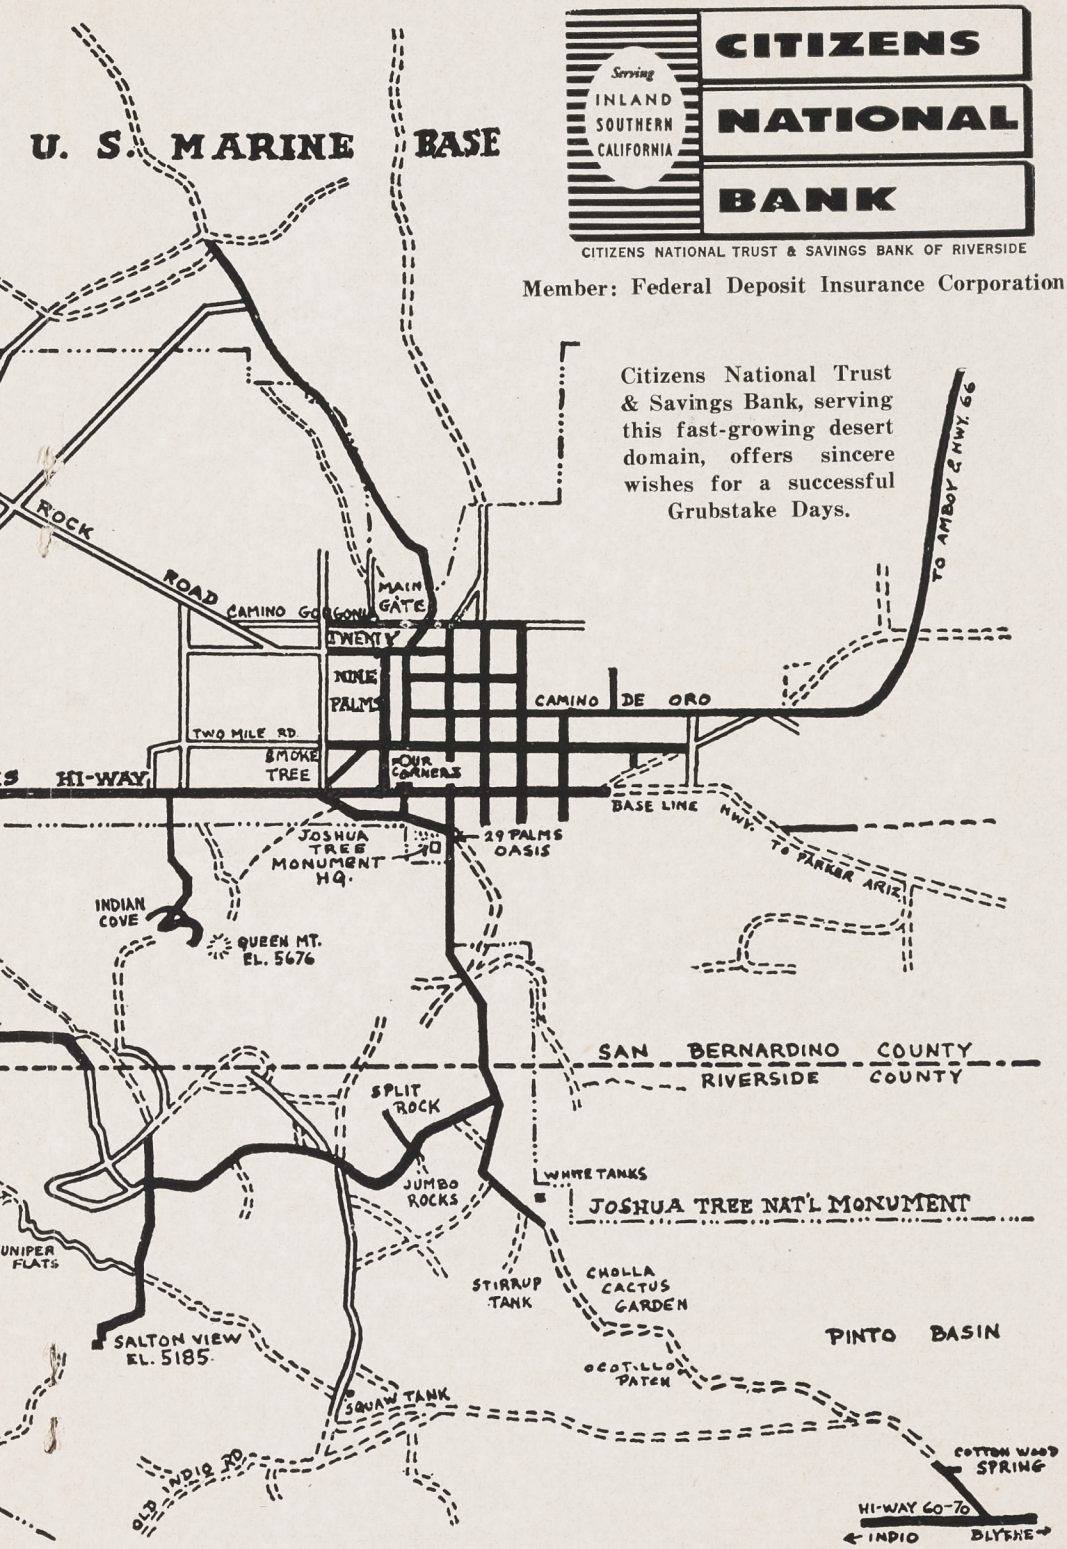
Citizens National Trust & Savings Bank, serving this fast-growing desert domain, offers sincere wishes for a successful Grubstake Days.



Yucca Valley looking down from the Victorville Road.

YUCCA VALLEY

Climate —

Our elevation of 3,333 to 3,700 feet and our location in the mountain desert area assures cool summers. Winters are mild, with warm days and cool nights. Our low humidity and high elevation assures delightful living throughout the year. Summer temperatures average 15 degrees lower than low desert areas! Snow falls occasionally during the winter months, however, our higher day-time temperatures cause the snow to melt rapidly.

Water —

Yucca Valley water is much better than that of the coastal areas, according to a State Water Commission analysis. The analysis gives Yucca Valley water superior rating over others. For softness, it has no equal in natural, deep-well waters.

Commercial Airport —

Yucca Valley Airport, new and modern, is being built on the site of Warren's well; an historic landmark two miles east of Yucca Valley, near the Victorville Road. This commercial port will be open twenty-four hours a day. Its hard surfaced runway is long enough to handle large twin engine planes with ease. To attract more air-minded people to this fog-free area a club house and pilot's lounge, picnic facilities, restaurant and all year swimming pool will be available.

Organizations —

Active Chamber of Commerce, Lion's Club, Women's Club, Community Service Club, American Legion and Auxiliary, Garden Club, Yucca Valley Theatrical Group and Parent Teachers Association.

PIONEERTOWN

Pioneertown, home of many Western movies, is an interesting place to visit. Just a five minute drive on paved roads, from Yucca Valley, the center is reached. This unusual replica of an old mining town, where on "Mane" street, no gasoline vehicles are allowed, is reminiscent of California's early days. Movie sets are on each side of the street and new ones are being erected from time to time as Motion Picture Companies, continue to come in for location work.

The rugged scenery surrounding the village is excellent background, as is proved by the many Gene Autry productions filmed here.

JOSHUA TREE

Joshua Tree, located seven miles East of Yucca Valley, is at the Western Gateway to the Joshua Monument with its wonderland of age old rock formations.

This community, like others in the high desert, is expanding in stride, attracting many to its fine climatic conditions and scenic features. One mile from town is Coyote Hole, a box canyon, where on the rock walls can be seen early Indian petroglyphs.

Joshua Tree is the home of the nationally known "Turtle Races," held annually on the first Sunday of May. With its elevation of 3,000 feet, it boasts of a year around climate, free from fog and smog.

HEADQUARTERS OF JOSHUA TREE NATIONAL MONUMENT - OASIS OF BE TTE

TWENTYNINE PALMS

Twentynine Palms is the oldest and largest of the High Desert cities. Located between the Little San Bernardino Mountains and the Calico Mountains, it commands an inspiring view. Utah Trail is the beginning of the Eastern gateway to the world famed Joshua National Monument. This thriving community of approximately 6,000 residents, comprises a large area. The High School is extremely modern and well equipped. An addition of equal size is planned this fall, as well as an annexation to the elementary school.

The Oasis of Mara, a distinguished landmark, was once farmed by Indians of the Chemehuevi tribe, the last of whom left the area about 1913. The farmland around the oasis was fed by gravity flow water from an Indian made lake. Mah-rah, as the Indians called the oasis, meant "much water and grass". The spelling was changed by the white man, to Mara.

The name of Twentynine Palms came at a time when only that many palms graced the oasis. It now has many more and is embraced in a Park System of the Department of the Interior.

Five miles from the center of town is the largest Marine Training Center. It covers an area of approximately 936 square miles and has proved to be a decided asset to the community.

Twentynine Palms is no longer the end of the line in the high desert. By the way of Amboy on route 66, some twenty miles can be saved going east from Los Angeles. The Baseline Highway, directly east from four corners, reduces mileage about ninety miles.

MORONGO VALLEY

My friend you have made the first step into the Hi-Desert country as you roll easily over the hill at the West entrance to Morongo Valley. The atmosphere changes in this higher altitude and cares vanish in the new charm of hidden wonders as you gaze across the broad valley polkadotted with modern pastel colored homes.

You fill your lungs with dry desert air and sniff the scent of good food coming from the shade around the restaurants and motels. Traveler, you are among friends and though you proceed along the highway and over the pass into Yucca Valley and East to the Colorado river you will be back. Morongo is a land of beginnings, the open sesame to lost mines and Indian lore, precious stones and forgotten trails.
